At the weekends I always make pancakes for breakfast. I love pancakes with a lot of jam or butter and honey. I take my own lunch to school, so I rarely buy anything from the canteen. I usually take a sandwich with me and sometimes I also have a piece of fruit or a bar of chocolate. In the evening, all my family is at home and we have dinner together. We have a hot meal like roast chicken with rice or steak and vegetables, but I never eat potatoes because I don't like them. There's always some salad and my parents drink some wine. My brother and I usually drink water, but on special occasions we drink cola. On Saturday or Sunday evenings, I go the Pizzaland with my friends. Pizza is my favourite food. But two of my friends prefer spaghetti. There are different types of pizza, but my favourite is ham and pineapple. I usually have four or five slices of pizza and I drink a large glass of cola. It's delicious
